Mrs. Laura S. Webb,

Vice-President of Women's Democratic Clubs of Northern Ohio.

the change of life which was fast approaching. While visiting with a friend I noticed that she was taking your Wine of Cardui, and she was so enthusiastic about it that I decided to try a bottle. I experienced some relief the first month, so I kept on taking it for three months and now I menstruate with no pain and I shall take it off and on now until I have passed the climax. I do not dread it now, as I am sure that your Wine of Cardui will be of great benefit at this time."

Wine of Cardui is the remedy to re-inforce a woman against the shock that comes with the change of life. It re-establishes healthy functions after years of suffering. In doing this it has saved thousands of sufferers just in time. Do not wait until suffering is upon you. Thorough preparations should be made in advance. Begin the Wine of Cardui treatment today.

HERE ARE MANY sickly women between the ages of 45 and 55, but there are very few invalids over 55 and 60 years of age. Those who meet this change in ill health seldom live ten years afterward, while a woman who lays aside the active duties of womanhood in health seldom fails to live on in happiness, years after she has passed 60. This is truly a critical time.

Mrs. Laura S. Webb, of Toledo, Ohio, recognizes the change of life as a dangerous period and she also has faith in Wine of Cardui. She writes:

"As I had always been troubled more or less at the menstrual period, I dreaded

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

WHITE RELATES HIS AWFUL DEED

Negro Tells of the Shocking Story to the Mob.

CRUEL, COWARDLY AND COLDBLOODED

His Recital Still Further Incensed the Mighty Multitude.

ATTACK ON WORKHOUSE THRILLING AFFAIR

Water Was Thrown Upon the Men as They Stormed the Institution, but the Cell of the Criminal Was Reached.

Wilmington, Del., June 23.—White's confession, made just before the torch was applied to the pile of oil-soaked bushes around him, was an admission of everything and more than had been charged against him. He is stated to have said: "I was sent by Mr. Woodward to a cornfield to try some corn. I saw Mr. Woodward's daughter and intended to assault her, but a couple of men came along and I did not disturb her. Then I saw the Bishop girl and I followed her. I seized her and asked her if she had any money; if she would give it to me I would let her go. She gave me 60 cents. Then I again seized her and she cried, 'Please don't hurt me.' I choked her and accomplished my purpose. Then I asked her if she was going to tell on me, and she said she was. I gave her a back in the throat with my knife and asked again if she was going to inform on me. She said she was. Then I cut her throat twice again and left her. After that I went back to Mr. Woodward and told him there was no good water to drink down there, and he sent me somewhere else. I went back once, but soon left. Then I went to the house and put on a white hat instead of the cap I wore. You would not do this if I was white and did that."

The negro's confession rendered the already incensed crowd even more desperate and some wanted to tear him limb from limb before they reached the scene of execution. The negro begged piteously not to be burned, but no mercy was shown the culprit, and although his sufferings were terrible, White remained conscious and rational to the last.

While at times during the night there were at least 5000 people around the workhouse, the men who actually took part in the lynching did not number over 500. The leader was a man who said his name was Baker and that he was from Virginia. His face was familiar to most people and it was believed he is a resident of Wilmington, although he said he had been imported for the purpose of leading the mob.

The lynching is believed to have been the result of a plot which was concerted several days ago and was to have been put into execution Saturday night, but on that occasion there was a misunderstanding and the attempt failed. Early Monday morning word was passed around that an attack was to be made on the prison at 10 o'clock that night and the men who were to participate in it were to meet at Price's Corner half an hour before that time. The report gained wide circulation, but most of the people who were not actually concerned in the plot were of the opinion that the plan would not be carried out. As a result of the reports, however, people flocked toward the workhouse early in the evening, but a majority of these went out of curiosity, although after they reached the prison many joined the attacking party. The police department was advised during the day of the contemplated attack, and thirty policemen in charge of Chief Black and Captain Evans and Kane went to the workhouse. This was at 8 o'clock Monday night. There were several thousand persons at the prison at that time and the officers were powerless against such large numbers, so they entered the building to assist the guards in an effort to protect the prisoner. During one of the rushes made by the crowd several shots were exchanged, and Peter Smith, a boy of twelve years, of Wilmington, was shot in the back and seriously injured. He is now in a hospital in this city. The shooting did not have any effect on the crowd other than to frighten a few off the lawns surrounding the workhouse, but they returned with reinforcements and aided those who were striving to get to the negro's cell.

Upon arriving at the workhouse the mob lost no time in preliminary preparation. Crowds advanced in front of the vestibule of reception hall and demanded admittance to the jail. Their demand was refused by the guards and they were deluged by a stream of water from a fire fighting equipment of the institution. This did not lessen the eagerness of the besiegers, who immediately began an assault upon the iron doors. Chief of Police Black shouted to the crowd: "The first man that comes in this corridor will be killed."

A man said to be from the south grasped one of the heavy sledge hammers, and as he attacked the steel railing, cried: "Then you had better kill me for the first one."

In addition to Peter Smith, a youth whose name is not known was wounded during the shooting.

While about 300 men and boys were storming the front of the jail several thousand sympathizers lined up outside, but took no part in the attack, although plainly in favor of lynching White.

The leaders told Chief Black and Warden Meserve they intended to get the negro if they had to break every steel door in the place and argued that it was a useless expense to the county to cause unnecessary damage done the property. The officials saw the strength of the argument and informed the leaders that White was in cell No. 13 on the front row, third story. This was enough, and the door of this row of cells was at once attacked. While this door was being cut another party with sledges and chisels attacked the large steel box containing levers that opened and closed the cell doors. It was 12:22 when the yelling and cursing mob rushed into the corridor, past the cell doors of the frightened prisoners to the cell occupied by White. In smashing the lever box the mechanism was damaged and the door to White's cell could not be opened.

LEFT CHAINED.

Body of Negro Burned Until Rain Extinguished the Flames.

Wilmington, Del., June 23.—All is quiet in this community following the lynching of George White, Helen Bishop's confessed slayer. Of the mob of nearly 5000 that overpowered the authorities, stormed the New Castle country workhouse and dragged from his cell the trembling wretch and burned him at a stake the identity of only one is publicly known. That person is little Peter Smith, twelve years old, who fell when the workhouse guards fired a volley into the ranks of the attacking mob. The lad was struck by a bullet, which entered his back, and, it is thought, penetrated his kidneys. At the homopathic hospital, where the injured boy was taken, physicians stated that he is in a serious condition.

Public sentiment here, so far as expressed, appears to approve the lynching of White, and it is not believed there will be any arrests.

PECULIAR PARALYSIS.

Believed to Be Caused by Food Acting Upon the Brain.

New York, June 23.—A strange form of paralysis, believed by specialists to have been induced by some food or other thing acting on the brain, has robbed Dr. William J. Greanelle of the faculty of the University of New York of the power of speech and the use of both legs, and has seriously influenced all the vital organs. The disease appeared in April. Leading specialists who have been treating the patient have been unable to check its passage. The attack came the day after Dr. Greanelle attended a church festival at which he ate a light repast.

THAT MADISON COUNTY ROAD.

A Strong Committee Appointed to Raise the Remainder of the Fund to Put it in Good Shape.

Following up the good work already done at the suggestion of County Judge Board towards raising $1000 for the improvement of the Madisonville road, a meeting of business men was held at the city hall yesterday afternoon and a strong committee was appointed to take hold of the matter aggressively and raise the remainder of the fund.

Judge Board was made chairman of the meeting and A. J. Buchanan secretary. Judge Board stated that his plan was, if Bryan will raise $1000 for the purpose specified, he will spend another $1000 of the county road fund on the same road, having the consent of the commissioners to do so, and that $2000 will put it in first-class shape, allowing for some work on the Madison county side of the river. He said the road force will be ready to go on this road by July 6, and stay on it until the work is completed.

On motion the following committee was appointed to raise the fund: G. S. Parker, J. Allen Myers, Robt. S. Webb, T. A. Searcy, D. F. Dansby, W. R. Sanders, G. M. Brandon, N. B. Cole, W. E. Saunders, Ed Hall. The committee will meet at 10 o'clock this morning at J. A. Myers' store and begin work.

With this committee behind the movement there is no doubt that it will be crowned with success. The people of Bryan all know the value of good roads and all they need is a little more stirring up on the subject.

Two members of the committee, Messrs. Parker and Myers, raised their subscriptions to $50 each during the meeting.

Judge Board said the county will look after repairs on the Bundick bridge. The need of a new bridge at the Manning crossing on the Navasota river was also discussed, and it was the sense of the meeting that this matter be taken up soon as the other has been disposed of.

PUT IN WORKHOUSE.
Mob Took Him From That Institution to the Scene of His Deed, Strung Him Up and Riddled the Body.

Wilmington, Del., June 23.—A mob of 2000 broke into the county workhouse, bent on lynching Geo. White, the negro who is held on charge of assaulting and killing Helen Bishop on Monday last. The guards are defending the place and boy and a man, members of the mob, have been shot and slightly injured. The guards played a strong stream of water into the crowd which stubbornly held its

There was a fusilade for a time between the mob and the guards. Four members of the mob are said to have been shot, but in the confusion it is impossible to obtain names except that it is known that Peter Smith, aged seventeen, was shot in the back. So far as known none of the guards were injured.

The negro has been taken from the workhouse by the mob, who started with him for Prices Corner, the scene of the assault and murder. The mob had cut all wires leading to Wilmington which is five miles from the workhouse.

The negro was taken to the scene of the crime. He there confessed to having assaulted the girl. He was then burned at the stake and his body riddled with bullets.

The victim of the assault for which White was lynched was Miss Helen S. Bishop, daughter of Rev. E. A. Bishop, superintendent of the Ferris Industrial school. She would have been eighteen years old next October. She was a student of the Wilmington high school, and was on the way home from school last Monday afternoon when she was attacked.

The Industrial school, where the girl's parents made their home, is about three-quarters of a mile from Price's Corner, where the girl usually left the trolley car when she went home from school in Wilmington. Late in the field saw Miss Bishop stagger Monday afternoon a farmer working and fall in the road. The farmer and his sons went to her assistance, but when they reached the girl she was lying unconscious in the road. She had three ugly gashes in her throat, her body was badly scratched and her clothing was torn in many places. In one hand she clutched a small penknife. There was every evidence that Miss Bishop had made a desperate resistance in defense of her honor and her life. The wounded girl was taken home and died the next afternoon without regaining consciousness.

The entire neighborhood was almost instantly aroused, and a man hunt was immediately begun. Suspicions was soon fastened on George C. White, colored, just out of the workhouse, who was engaged as a laborer on the farm of Edward Woodward, near the scene of the assault. White was found in bed that same night, and when taken into custody denied all knowledge of the crime. He was identified by several persons who said they saw him in the vicinity of the scene of the crime. A knife which Mrs. Woodward said belonged to him was found where the girl was assaulted. White was brought to Wilmington, but later was transferred to the county workhouse, where the officials thought he would be safe from mob violence.

LAND OWNERS.

Held a Convention at Memphis in regard to Levee Matters.

Memphis, June 23.—A convention of land owners from the western counties of Tennessee and Kentucky was held in this city Monday in which resolutions were adopted against the present levee system on the Mississippi river and at which a committee of five was named to go before the Mississippi river commission at its annual meeting in St. Louis and enter protest against the levee system in toto. Farmers who claim to represent more than 1,000,000 acres of land in Kentucky and Tennessee, claim they have suffered great damage from the overflows of recent years because of the building of the levees on the Arkansas side of the Mississippi.

Lexington, Ky., June 23.—Captain B. J. Ewen, the leading witness in the trial of Jett and White for the murder of J. B. Marmie, at Jackson, left here for a secret destination. The action was taken on the advice of friends after Captain Ewen had been informed by a man, who came from Jackson, of the existence of a plot to assassinate him. All sorts of rumors are in circulation concerning efforts to interfere with the course of justice in the Marcum case. Captain Ewen not only felt that he was in danger constantly, but that his presence here might endanger his friends.

Talked With Mrs. Ewen.

Jackson, Ky., June 23.—Ex-Senator Hargis sent for Mrs. B. J. Ewen, wife of B. J. Ewen, who was the principal witness in the trial of Jett and White and talked to her regarding her husband. Mrs. Ewen has become alarmed and has written her husband not to remain in Kentucky.

Silver Jubilee.

Columbus, O., June 23.—The silver jubilee of the International Knights of St. John opened here Monday, several thousand knights and ladies being in attendance. Following the religious exercises the delegates adjourned to the board of trade auditorium, where welcoming speeches were heard. ELKS MEET.

Hold Their First State Convention and Elect Officers For the Year.

Waco, June 23.—The first annual convention of Texas Elks was called to order here Monday, General W. H. Patterson of Dallas presiding. After a spirited contest Galveston was selected for next meeting place. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Carl F. Drake of Austin; first vice president, Henry Williams of Greenville; second vice president, George H. Walker of Austin; third vice president, R. T. Crawford of Temple; secretary, T. E. Sedberry of Waxahachie; treasurer, W. W. Soley of Waco; esquire, C. M. Clarke of Ennis; tiller, R. L. Bennett of San Antonio; inner guard, F. B. McKay of Terrell; chaplain, W. K. Loyd of Paris.

TOOK HIS LIFE.

Miles Wallingford Dies at Denison From an Overdose of Morphine.

Denison, Tex., June 23.—Miles Wallingford, wanted at Columbus, O., on an indictment charging murder, took an overdose of morphine Sunday night and was found by a turnkey and Watchman Crane in a dying condition Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock in the city jail.

Wallingford's cell was searched Monday morning, and it was discovered that he had torn his blankets strips and platted a stout and effective rope about three and one-half feet long. The improvised rope was strong enough for him to have hanged himself with it.

ABUSED FAMILY.

Negro's Actions Caused His Death at Hands of His Employer.

Texarkana, Tex., June 23.—Roderick Perry, colored, was shot and killed on the Sanderson plantation on Red river, twelve miles north of here, Monday morning. Alex. G. Sanderson, owner and operator of the plantation, surrendered to the officers, but was exonerated by the examining magistrate. It seems that Perry, in the absence of Sanderson, went to the latter's house and cursed and abused Mrs. Sanderson and other members of the family. Monday morning Sanderson called him to account for his behavior, when the negro attempted to draw a weapon, and Sanderson shot him.

Furnished a Sensation.

Wilson, N. C., June 23.—The afternoon session Monday of the court which is trying the men indicted for the murder of Percy Jones, the Arkansas insurance agent, furnished a sensation. William W. Barnes, one of the defendants, was put on the stand by the state and told how the plot was formed to attack Jones. He implicated Allen, Rich, Morgan, Pittman, Walls, Ward, Bass, Piver, Davis and himself. He said that Allen, Rich, Pittman, Bass and Ward were in Jones' room when the shooting took place.

HAD A FIGHT.

McCoy-Hatfield Feudists Take the Law Into Their Own Hands.

Roanoke, Va., June 23.—A party of mountaineers, led by Floyd McCoy, a member of the McCoy-Hatfield feudists, went to the mining town of Keyes, McDowell county, West Virginia, took the law into their own hands and insulted many people. The abuse was resented by John Reynolds, an employee of a brewery. McCoy's crowd crossed the railroad and opened fire on Reynolds. A large crowd gathered, and the entire police force went in pursuit. McCoy retreated 400 yards, took his stand and opened fire on the officers, and a pitched battle raged in the darkness. One of McCoy's men was killed and another fatally wounded, others being also injured. The police escaped injury. The McCoy crowd escaped to the mountains, taking their dead and wounded with them. Their names are unknown. Execution prevails.

The McCoys have not been on the warpath for several years. The Hatfields live in an adjoining county.

Washington, June 23.—The grand jury which has been investigating postal affairs, returned an indictment against August W. Machen, Diller B. Groff, Samuel A. Groff, Geo. E. Lorenz and Martha J. Lorenz, the two latter being residents of Toledo, Ohio.

As previously stated in these dispatches the specific charge is conspiracy to defraud the government. The indictment is based on Section 5440 of the revised statutes which provides a penalty of $10,000 or two years' imprisonment, or both in the discretion of the court.

There are twelve counts in their indictment.

CHANGES IN THE ELKS MEET.

Effort Being Made at Columbia in Behalf of James H. Tillman.

Columbia, S. C., June 23.—The circuit court, Judge D. A. Townsend presiding, Monday took up the case of Jas. H. Tillman, charged with murder and a motion for a change of venue was heard. On Jan. 15th Tillman, then lieutenant governor, shot and killed N. G. Gonzales, editor of The State, who had repeatedly denounced him when Tillman was a candidate for governor last year.

The defense produced about 300 affidavits to show that a fair trial could not be had in this county, because of prejudice against the defendant.

The prosecution presented about 400 affidavits in reply. Practically all the ministers of Columbia asserted that they have made no reference to the case from their pulpits, newspaper men including Messers. W. E. and A. E. Gonzales, respectively, editor and publisher of The State, stated in affidavits that the Columbia papers had conspicuously and carefully refrained from inflammatory denunciations of the defendant. These assertions were backed by statements from bank presidents, lawyers, physicians, college professors, merchants and men in all lines of business, including many citizens of the county outside of Columbia.

CAUSING TROUBLE.

Former Sultan of Sodoto is Making Matters Interesting.

London, June 23.—The former sultan of Sodoto is causing the British considerable trouble in Nigeria. A force of 130 West African troops in the middle of May unsuccessfully attacked the former sultan, who is in command of a large force, in the walled town of Durumi, about 20 miles from Kano. The British were obliged to retire after losing four men killed and sixty wounded. The enemy's losses were estimated at 300 men killed or wounded. Reinforcements are being sent the British. A gunboat has been ordered to Garrowa, on the Liberian coast, in consequence of the looting of British and French steamers, which have run ashore there.

Taken to Atlanta.

Baltimore, Md., June 23.—Miss Dora Campbell, the former postmaster of Maysville, Ga., who has been arrested here, charged with embezzlement of funds from the postoffice at Maysville, was given a hearing before United States Commissioner Rogers and was remanded by him for the action of the federal grand jury of the Northern district of Georgia which has jurisdiction over Maysville. The young woman was taken charge of by Deputy United States Marshal Seery who left with her for Atlanta. The only witness expected here was Postoffice Inspector Barry of Atlanta, who testified that a balance of $569 had not been accounted for at the Maysville office.
